Wire Transfers: The Safest Option

Protecting your investment from fraud is not only a critical part of our business but our priority. At Key Title Group, we take the extra step to send secure wire transfers that safeguard your transactions. Wire transfers have become one of the most trusted options for sending and receiving money. Unlike a simple bank deposit there is no physical exchange of money. Only the account balances are adjusted after proper identification has been confirmed with both parties. That is why Key Title Group relies on wire transfers for your real estate transactions. We are committed to being an industry leader in providing security for our partners and clients.
